The workshop will run for 2 days and will take place on June 7-8, 2022, in Barcelona.

This workshop aims at being a showcase of recent outstanding contributions in the broad literature on development economics. The workshop aims to create an annual meeting of top researchers in this field in the framework of the BSE Summer Forum. Both empirical and theoretical contributions will be encouraged, and participation of both established seniors and promising junior researchers is expected.

The deadline for submissions is February 28, 2022. To submit a paper, please use this link <https://app-summerforum.bse.eu/>. When you submit your paper, you will be able to see the topics and dates of other workshops that will take place within the Summer Forum. The same paper cannot be submitted to more than one workshop, but you are welcome to submit a different paper to another workshop.
