We would like to invite you to submit a paper to the workshop:

External Validity, Generalizability and Replicability of Economic Experiments

The workshop will run for 1 day and will take place on June 10, 2022, in Barcelona.

Brief description: In the last decades, behavioral and experimental economics have been very successful in showing how economic processes and outcomes are significantly shaped by different aspects of human behavior. These fields, however, are still largely based on findings from experiments conducted in laboratory conditions or with convenience samples of subjects, and there is a growing concern about their external validity and generalizability to real-world contexts. At the same time, we are in the middle of a wide-ranging replication crisis that represents a serious threat to all experimental sciences, with some studies estimating the replicability of published research at less than 50%. This workshop will accept high-quality papers related in any way to the external validity, generalizability or replicability of experimental research.

The Selection Committee includes Professors: Anna Dreber Almenberg (Stockholm School of Economics & University of Innsbruck), Elisabeth Gsottbauer (University of Innsbruck), Jan Stoop (Erasmus University Rotterdam), Severine Toussaert (University of Oxford), Fabio Tufano (University of Nottingham).

The deadline for submissions is February 28, 2022. To submit a paper, please use this link <https://app-summerforum.bse.eu/>. Submissions should include either a full paper or an extended abstract with the main results. Authors chosen to present papers will be notified approximately by the end of March. A preliminary program will be announced by the end of April.

Please note that the BSE Summer Forum is a series of independent workshops. When you submit your paper, you will be able to see the topics and dates of other workshops that will take place within the Summer Forum. The same paper cannot be submitted to more than one workshop, but you are welcome to submit a different paper to another workshop.

There is no registration fee, and meals during the workshop will be provided for participants. The workshop organization will not be able to provide accommodation or travel support for speakers.

The BSE Summer Forum is one of the activities supported by the Severo Ochoa Program of Centers of Excellence (CEX2019-000915-S).
